And Tomorrow is the Past. Isabel Creuznacher

Anna has no idea what to do after leaving school. Sebastian does, but his parents do not agree. Tobias simply wants to get away from his fine parental home. And Constance wants to make it big in the future.

The only thing they have in common is the six-month A-level course in the secretive university town of Marburg and their experiences in incredible India.

After that, everything changes.

"And Tomorrow is the Past" is an educational novel which - wrapped in a great love and adventure story - deals with three topics: (1) Active self-reflection on strengths and interests, as well as the creation of one's dreams and visions for one's future life (2) Creative-innovative thinking and the systematic development of innovative business ideas (3) Intercultural training (especially in relation to India).
